

YEAR 6 LITERACY WORK

We have seen some beautiful work from Year 6 children during literacy lessons this week. Below are two examples from Sycamore class.

I ran. Harder than I ever thought I could. My feet dragged through the vacant streets of neglected buildings. My sister, Molly, was not far behind and I could hear the mob coming after us. It felt as if my heart would burst and a gazillion shards would shoot out, but we didn't slow down. We'd been planning to depart this island for a long time but had been putting it off. It was a big preference to set out to sea on a tiny rowing boat, but now we had no other choice. It was now or never!

Emerging dauntingly ahead of us was the horizon- a picturesque firework of colour- lit are way, until a sea of darkness golfed us, pushing the warmth of the day away, the frosty air started to fill my bones, possessing me as we rowed into the powerful unknown; dread and determination prevented me from ceasing or resting although I knew that I should. At least the voices had stopped. The voices that would haunt us forever, the ones that we had left behind. However, we knew we didn't have a choice, did we? Time overtook us, we attempted to work out the hours in our heads- all we knew was that the darkness had lifted, off on its next quest, patiently waiting to return bringing once again its fears and challenges. Lifting my weary head, my eyes prolonged into focus; my heart lifted that I was shore that there in the distance.....

Author: Lilly

I was exasperated. My lethargic legs lay as still as a statue on the damp, sodden grass. Strangely, I still remember the first time my ravenous body woke up perplexed on the soggy sand of Kiwi Island. Torrential downpour surrounded me, as I rowed across aggravated waves and gloomy clouds engulfing my fragile body. As a merciless wave hit the rear end of my boat my horrified, pale body lunged forward. All in a second my heart stopped pounding in my chest. I remember waking up as light poured into my eyes. Water trickled down my back as I could barely drag myself from the icy cold water.

Author: Taylor

End of Year 2017 Whole School Performance

One or Two tickets per family
Entry by Ticket Only

Tuesday 12 December
Wednesday 13 December
Thursday 14 December

Time: 9.00am LARGE HALL

NO BUGGIES IN HALL, PLEASE

Tickets can be requested on SchoolGateway (by Friday 8 December)
Ticket numbers are limited (issued in order of application)
Tickets will be given to your child to bring home on Monday 11 December

You will need to 'comment'
- either '1' or '2' tickets (maximum of 2 per family)
- which date required

Central London Community Healthcare
NHS Trust
Your healthcare closer to home

School Nurse Drop in service

Please drop in and speak to your School Nurse, Emily Pollock.

She will be on site at Oriel Academy on Wednesday mornings between 09:00am and 10:30am. This service will start from Wednesday 10th January 2018.

Please ask at the school office if you wish to see the nurse.

If you are looking for health advice, support, information or anything that is on your mind in regards to your child/children that attend Oriel for example:

Bullying / Emotional wellbeing / Sleep problems / Healthy eating & exercise / Bed wetting

READER OF THE WEEK

Well done to Aryan in Chestnut class.

He is working really hard both at school and home to improve his reading.

He said "my favourite books are about cars. I read to my Mum, Dad and Sister at home".

BOOK DONATIONS

A big thank you to Taylor in Sycamore class and Alex in Larch class for the donation of books for our library. If you have any unwanted books in good condition that you wish to donate to us then we would be very happy to receive them - Thank you!

DATES FOR AUTUMN 2 TERM 2017

NOV

Mon 27th

Year 2 to St Paul's Cathedral

Year 4 Swimming

Tues 28th

14:45pm - Birch Class Assembly

DEC

Mon 4th

Year 4 swimming

Tues 5th

14:45pm - Elm Class Assembly

Tues 12th

09:00am - Whole School, End of Year Performance

Wed 13th

09:00am - Whole School, End of Year Performance

Thurs 14th

09:00am - Whole School, End of Year Performance

Wed 20th

Last day of Autumn Term

Thurs 21st Dec-Mon 1st Jan

Christmas Holidays